TRICK, TREAT

AND

SPELL ???

President's Message —

Our originally planned speaker is unable to attend this month, but Phil Lavorgna will be giving us some insight about owning and operating a railroad car in America.

Cold weather is setting in so it will be time to do research planning for next year and for places to try our hand at getting good finds.

We want to have the Wagon Masters start getting prizes for the Christmas dinner. See Eldon at the meeting to obtain funds.

Remember the coin show October 27 and 28. We have drawing tickets for the Silver dollars and Gold piece. See Don or Bob.

See everybody at the meeting.

Thanks - Don Swain

This month Mel has given us an article on GARFIELD, for our newsletter. Thanks Mel!

GARFIELD, MY HOME TOWN

Keith Reid

The town of Garfield was laid out in the pattern of half of a wagon wheel. This was due to being set in surrounding hills.

In 1905, the Utah Copper Company, seeing the need to house employees for the mills and smelter needed to produce the copper, began to build homes which were provided to employees at low rent and low utilities. The Garfield Improvement Company was formed to paint, repair and maintain these homes. A full maintenance force of carpenters, painters, plumbers, electricians, garbage men, etc., were employed to maintain these homes under the direction of H. Claude Anderson and O. J. "Bud" McDonald.

The Men's Club, the Women's Club, the playground above the school, our old swimming hole, "Sandy Bottom", to be superceded by the "new" state-of-the-art swimming pool, the library with Mrs. Evers, the librarian, the Garfield Elementary School and Junior High School were places we were drawn to. Two churches, the Episcopal Church and the LDS Garfield Ward (which later housed the Garfield East and West Wards, then back to the Garfield Ward as the population ebbed) graced the town. My favorite place was the ball park down across the highway, where we played ball until it became too dark to see the ball. Then to help us out, they installed lights on the field. Great softball teams came to play there. How lucky we were!

Movies were provided for us at our movie "Palace" on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday at 6 p.m. and again at 8 p.m. Young ones went to the first show and adults went to the second show—that's just the way it is and don't try to challenge it!

We all explored Dead Man's Cave, hiked the hills above town, sneaked out into the tailings, had Mrs. Ahlquist as our First Grade Teacher, got our mail from Mrs. Taylor at the Post Office. We scooted down McKinley Hill on our carts, wagons, bikes, or sleds depending on the season.

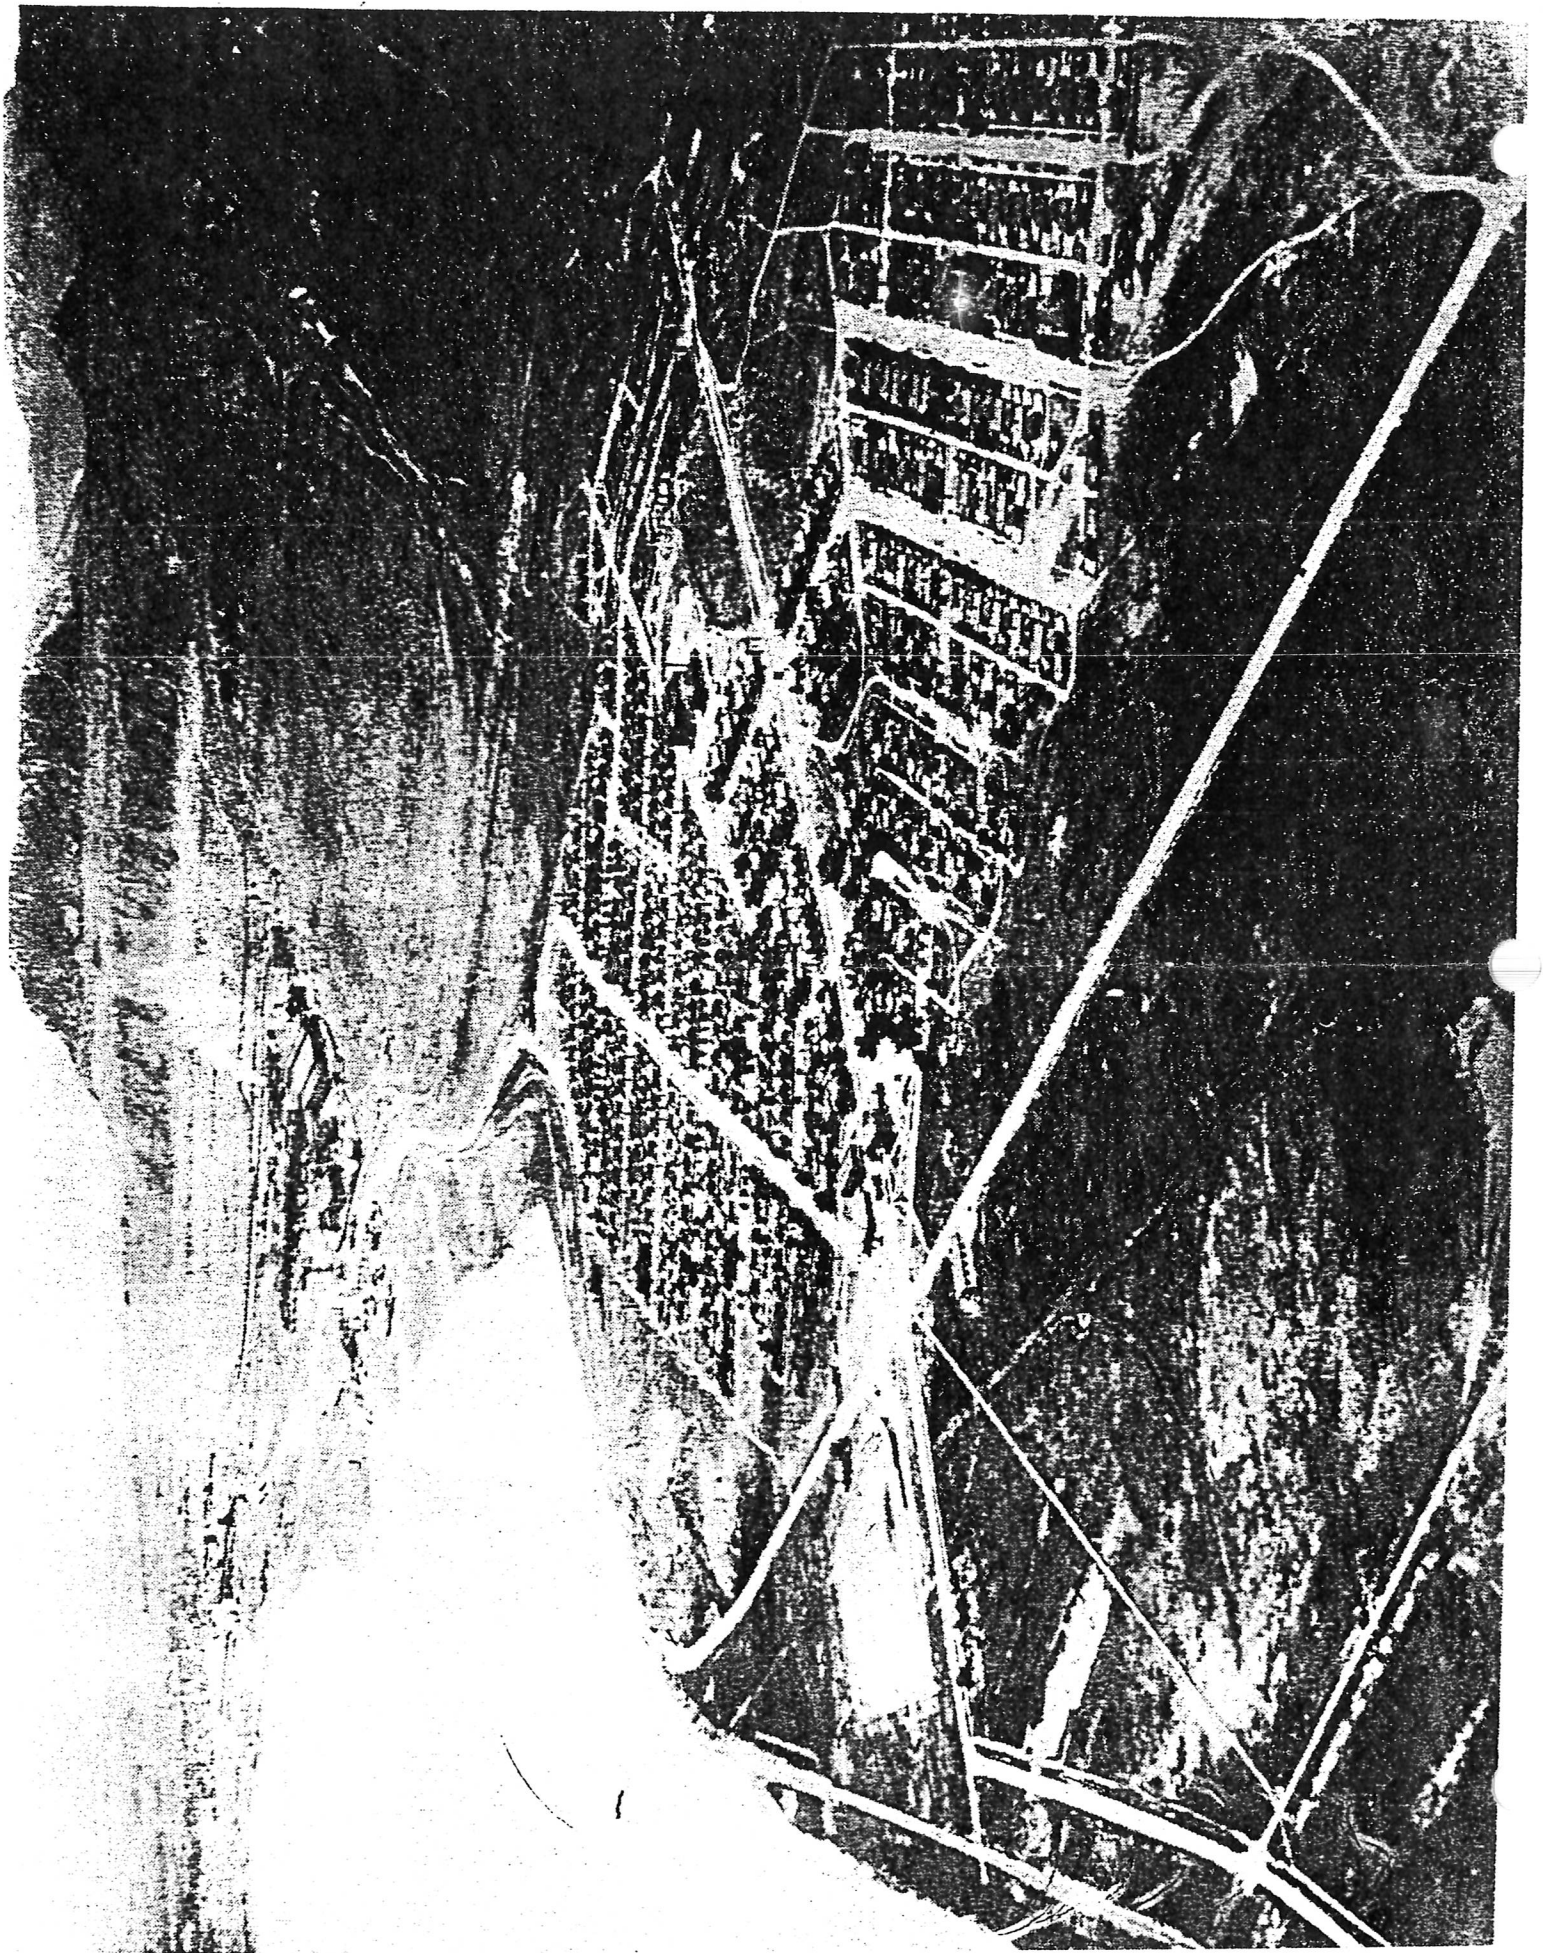

Our little town had Denton's Service Station, Bill Reynold's Jail, Sam Glazer's Garfield Trading, Carl's Club (Beer Joint), Waldron's Barber Shop, Bonde Albean's Sweet Shop, the Post Office, and a Drug store. At the Garfield Trading Company Store one could buy anything from an apple to a zipper.

When we finally graduated from Garfield Junior High (ninth grade), we were introduced into Cyprus High School via Roy Smith's "early" or "first" bus, or Vern Buttar's "late" or "second" bus. These drivers picked up our friends from Saltair, the railroad crossing below town and "Smelter town" before us, then we picked up other friends from Arthur, Arthur Row and Magna Row and then on to Cyprus High in Magna, all in about an hour's ride.

The Joe White family with boys Joe, Kent, Paul and Chad were the only family in town to have horses, which prompted me and my friends to sing this little ditty:

"My home town was a one-horse town,
But it was big enough for me".
